

The Futures Fund: Participant Application Spring 2016 Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Futures Fund is a workforce development program designed with the mission to create digital, literary, visual, and performing arts-based entrepreneurial opportunities for youth 14-18 years old. It provides students with training in the arts under the guidance of paid professionals and volunteers with industry-specific expertise. Our Saturday training programs are research-driven, and based on best practices to prepare creative-minded youth for revenue-generating opportunities in their selected arts discipline. Youth who enroll in the program are expected to attend every class for the eight-week program and participate in a final showcase to demonstrate their learning.

PROGRAM OFFERINGS

This program will equip students with art and entrepreneurial skills during the eight-week course. Active participation will build their ability to articulate the importance of coding or photography, and empower them to apply these skills in the business world. Students will also engage with business professionals before and after class instruction to develop the 21st century workforce skills necessary to compete in today's business world.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

How much does the program cost?

The cost of each program is $299 for the full 8-week session, including the showcase event. All necessary equipment will be provided for your child to learn. This includes high quality cameras, computers and necessary software. Further, there will be no additional out-of-pocket costs to display student work, such as printed photographs. Students that meet low to moderate income limits and complete the attached application are able to attend at no cost. Please complete the full application and we will contact you regarding cost waiver.

Do students take classes at both sites?

No. The Digital and Visual Arts programs will be offered at two locations, but applicants must select the preferred site.

Is transportation provided?

Transportation is not provided at this time. However, please indicate if this is a serious concern for your family and we will try our best to assist or ensure this is an offering we provide in future sessions.

Will advanced classes be offered?

Yes. We encourage students to continue with the program from spring to fall, year to year. As such, we are committed to offering more advanced levels over time, building on previous course content and learnings. In addition to this, classes are led by industry professionals that have a deep understanding of the course content and can teach to each student's abilities within one class.

Can classes or sessions be repeated?

Classes are not repeated, as we develop a detailed, intensive curriculum offered in a lockstep manner. For this reason, it is critical that students who commit to the program attend each session for the full 8 weeks, as well as the showcase event.

Will student work/services be sold to benefit the program or students?

We partner with local organizations when possible to showcase student work and sell to the community. In certain instances, students may also be hired to complete specific projects, such as photographing an event, developing a website and/or app, etc. In these circumstances, we will discuss compensation before presenting works, making clear how the payment will be split between students and the program. Any funds being paid to The Futures Fund program will be used to offset programming expenses.
